LA1533, Presentation Methods and Media Materials List (Fall 2025)

Please note: These supplies (with the exception of the pencils and micron pens) will last years if you take good care of them. You will use them not only in other classes your first semester (not just LA1533), but in subsequent studios. The most expensive items are the Chartpak AD Markers. We have listed an alternate, less expensive brand of marker below. There are sets of both brands in studio to try before you buy your own to see which you prefer. If you end up preferring other methods of rendering, rest assured a rising classmate will be interested in buying your markers if they are in good condition. Also, this list is by no means exhaustive. You may want to acquire more color pencils, pens, or markers during the semester as you learn what graphic media appeal to you. Price estimates were obtained in July 2025 and are subject to change.
